

Speak to your Learning Disability Partnerships Board - Changing where you live

HEREFORDSHIRE'S
LEARNING DISABILITY
PARTNERSHIP BOARD
everything about us but not without us

An invitation to have your say.

This month's survey is about how you have a say in changing where you live.

Thank you for telling us your thoughts on relationships. We will present your comments at the next Learning Disability partnership board and see what we can do to help.

If you missed our first survey please read on - if not please go ahead to the survey and thank you very much!

Do you ever wish someone would just listen to you? Well, Herefordshire's Learning Disability Partnership Board wants to hear what you have to say.

The Learning Disability Partnership Board is a group of people who are working together to make Herefordshire an excellent place to live. Some people on the Board have learning disabilities, some have relatives or friends with learning disabilities, and some work for Herefordshire Council or for organisations that support people with learning disabilities.

The Learning Disability Partnership Board would really like to hear what you think about the services and activities you take part in so that we can try to make them better.

Would you be willing to share your ideas with us by taking part in a short monthly survey?

We will listen to you, then act and tell you what we've done. We will only use your contact details to send you these surveys and tell you what actions we take as a result of your feedback.

What is Healthwatch?

Local Healthwatch is all about local voices being able to influence the delivery and design of local services. It is not just for people who use them now, but anyone who might need to use them in future.
